DER SHUTTLE LIFT IST SPARKEN UND SPITZEN AND IST DER KAPUT!

Failure Blamed on Bad Fake German Accent

The Shuttle van's lift is out of commission! However, the shuttle van does have room to take fold-up wheelchairs, as long as the person using the fold-up wheelchair is able to get onto the van.

MORE PANELISTS ADDED

How Many are in That Car, Anyway?

The following participants have been added after the publication of the pocket program: Terry Boren, Gardner Dozois, Mary Kay Kare, Jim Musselwhite, James Ruppert, Michael Scanlon, Michael Shea, David A. Kyle

EXHIBIT HALL DIRECTIONS

Back, and to the Right. Back, and to the Right.

If you've heard about the various exhibits here at NASFiC – such as the collection of Hugo Award® trophies, the NASA Exhibit, the SF Museum of Oregon, and the Fan Guest of Honor exhibit – you may be wondering where it is. The exhibits are located in the Conference Center; go past the Artists' alley, turn right at the Voodoo Boards, and walk down to Emerald A & B. Stop in and have a look!

TODAY'S FEATURE FILM

Shown in Full 35mm Film Glory

Today's 35mm Feature Film is Bram Stoker's Dracula, playing today from 8pm to 10pm. While the long-unavailable 4-hour BBC version is probably the most faithful adaptation of the original novel, this is probably the most stylish version of the Dracula story ever filmed. Francis Ford Coppola loads the screen with wonderful period eye-candy and fortifies it
